FAQ

WHAT IS NDIS?

The NDIS is an exciting initiative for the disability sector, but a very new way of doing things. The following in-formation may help answer some of the more common questions you may have about the NDIS.

WHAT IS NDIA?

NDIA is the independent agency responsible for implementing the NDIS. It provides information and referrals, links to services and activities, individualised plans and where necessary, funded supports over a lifetime. We recommend you contact the NDIA before making any decisions about your NDIS plan.

HOW CAN I GET NDIS SUPPORT?

The first step is to contact the NDIA on 1800 800 110 or through their website (www.ndis.gov.au). As a minimum you must be an Australian citizen under the age of 65 with a disability.

Once you have made contact with the NDIA, you will work with a planner to map out what you do and don't need to live life the way you choose. Your funding will be based on the services and supports you identify through this process.

WHAT CAN BE FUNDED?

One of the great things about the NDIS is that, it is designed to suit the needs of every individual. For most people, funding will cover things like:

- Daily personal activities
- Transport for community, social & daily activities
- Workplace support to gain or maintain employment
- Therapeutic supports, including behavior support
- Assessment of aids including set up and training
- Home modification design and installation
- Mobility equipment
- Vehicle modifications.

WHAT WILL NOT BE FUNDED?

A support will not be funded if it does not relate to your disability, if it duplicates support that is already funded (eg Medicare or Department of Education), if it relates to day-to-day living costs that are not related to a participant's support needs, or if it is likely to cause harm to the participant or others.
